Vigilante gangs a threat on redways

Police ask for calm after two men are attacked and accused of being the serial sex beast

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE have called for calm after two men were attacked in separate incidents by thugs who claimed they were the redway sex attacker.

Detectives are working to identify a man who could be responsible for four serious sexual assaults that have blighted the city's redways, but they now fear that people could take the law into their own hands or use the incidents as an excuse for violence.

On May 2 a woman in her 30s was sexually assaulted and robbed in Bradville, a similar attack was made on a 50-year-old woman in Mount Farm on May 27, a 15-year-old girl was attacked on June 5 in Giffard Park and on June 17 a 16-year-old was assaulted from behind as she walked across the H5 bridge from Campbell Park to Downs Barn.

As frustration grows among members of the community, police have received a bogus 'rape' report from one woman in Bancroft and yesterday they confirmed that two men have been targeted and beaten.

Police at the scene in Mount Farm where a 50-year-old woman was attacked on May 27

Last week a 22-year-old woman who reported an attempted robbery, which police were investigating in relation to the redway attacks, was fined £80 for wasting police time.

At 5.30pm on Saturday a 39-year-old man was approached in Great Linford and called a paedophile. The offender walked off and sat down but returned and attacked the man from behind, punching and kicking him.

At 10.20pm on Sunday a 45-year-old man was walking along a redway close to Stantonbury Park when he saw a gang of about eight young people.

One of the teenagers approached him and said: "You're the rapist," before punching him in the face.

The gang member was 17-years-old, mixed race, 6ft, well built, wearing a white baseball cap, white sleeveless T-shirt and three-quarter length black, white and grey camouflage trousers.

Detective Inspector Dave Dachtler said: "There is absolutely no excuse for this kind of mindless violence and offenders will face charges if they engage in this behaviour.

"If people have concerns about an individual in relation to any crime they should contact the police and let us deal with it. Any assault or act of vigilante behaviour is not acceptable and will not be tolerated.

"These offenders are not acting for the good of the community they are merely thugs using the serious nature of the sexual assaults as an excuse for violence."

Thousands of people have joined groups on the social networking site Facebook to vent their anger about the sex attacks and residents have expressed their concerns by leaving comments on the MK NEWS website.

One said: "This animal seems to have no fear but is able to generate enough fear to terrorise a whole city of women."

Another woman said: "My daughter has always been confident in the street and now even she is starting to worry."

Others have suggested forming groups to walk the redways in search of the attacker.

Police have warned of inaccurate information on Facebook and say there is no need for widespread panic.

They urge people not to walk alone and ensure that children are accompanied on their journey to school.

Detective Chief Inspector Joe Kidman said her team has eliminated a number of people from their enquiries and experts are using forensic analysis to look for DNA.

"We have a number of specially trained officers working with the victims of these assaults to help build a better picture of the offender," she said.

"We have received lots of information from the public and are following up on this information and other significant lines of enquiry.

No say for public on square 'Plan 3'

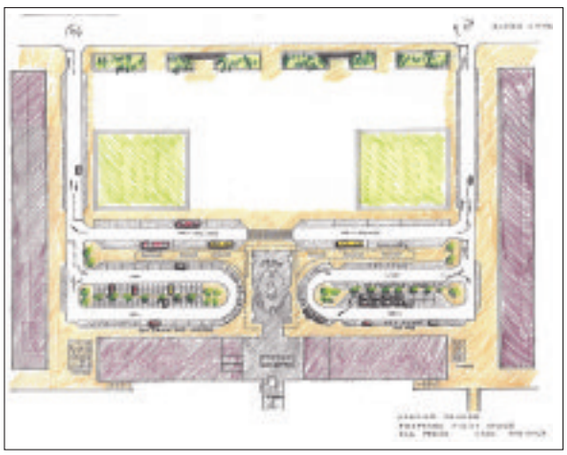
City architect's design will not be be put up for consultation



Architect Ken Baker drew up this vision of Station Square

A THIRD option for the future of Station Square is being considered, but the public will not have its say on the design.

After an architect criticised the council's two options for the area and submitted his own plan, the council has proposed giving his drawing equal weight.

However, while options one and two were publicised during a consultation in April for public feedback, only 'stakeholders' will be asked for their views on option three.

These include public and private groups with a vested interest in the city's transport.

As MK NEWS reported in March, Ken Baker, a director at David Lock Associates, drew up his own vision for Station Square because the council's options were 'too similar and dominated by Tarmac'.

The cabinet will decide on July 21 which design will be implemented and £4million of Government funding towards it must be spent by 2011.

Respondents to the council's designs for transforming the area claimed that disabled bays were too far from the entrance, more drop-off spaces were needed, the area lacked seating and cut the taxi ranks.

Mr Baker, whose design includes a central concourse and focuses on separating pedestrians from vehicles, said: "Common sense has prevailed. The two original plans were for merely a bus station in Station Square. But it should be about convenience for pedestrians."

Cabinet member for transport, Cllr Alan Mallyon, said: "It's essential that we take all ideas into consideration. In the light of a good idea, why not consider it? We are just listening to the people."

MPs' expenses 'black-out' blasted

THE city's MPs have criticised the censorship of expenses following their official release.

Mark Lancaster, member for North East Milton Keynes, said blocks of blacked out details 'have done nothing for the transparency of Parliament'.

The redacted details of Phyllis Starkey's claims have left her having to explain why she appears to have claimed twice for an accountant.

The MP for Milton Keynes South West said: "In my view the House of Commons authorities seem to have over interpreted the guidance. It doesn't look good."

On Thursday, Parliament's website went live with files of MPs' expenses.

MK NEWS had already revealed the details of their second home allowances last month.

Labour's Dr Starkey published hers online, while Conservative, Mr Lancaster, showed this newspaper his unredacted paperwork.

On Monday Mr Lancaster received an apology from the House of Commons after they named him as an MP who had to pay back money.

The £1,700 he was said to have had to pay back was actually a returned rental deposit, and a further £648.15 was for a refunded telephone contract.

He has defended claiming money for bookcases that he keeps at his home, saying he needs to keep copies of Hansard there because that is where he replies to constituency mail.

Dr Starkey said she has had some emails from constituents querying her expenses.

Both MPs have claimed money for accountants to do their tax returns - something other MPs have been criticised for.

However, Dr Starkey said that claiming £2,855.25 over four years was driven by an effort to make sure her finances were done correctly.

Mr Lancaster emphasised that it is within the rules to claim for tax returns, provided it is done as a benefit in kind.

In 2007/8 Dr Starkey claimed £17,969 for her second home, totalling £154,767 with the additional costs of travel, running an office and employing staff.

Mr Lancaster spent £22,541 on his second home, and a total of £151,619 on all expenses.

Neither MP has been called by their parties' scrutiny panels regarding their expenses.

Hunt for redway sex beast

"For very good reasons we can't tell the public exactly what is happening with the investigation. This could give an offender knowledge we don't want him to have and could damage the chances of getting a conviction in court."

Yesterday police released a fresh description of the offender from the fourth sex attack on Tuesday, June 17 at about 5pm.

Witnesses at the scene describe him as white, about 5ft 7ins and aged between 19 and 35.

He is skinny, small to medium build, with a pale complexion and a straight face.

He has dark brown or black hair, which is spiky on top as if gelled and short at the sides.

He was wearing a dark blue or black jacket with a high collar which was done up.

The jacket was made from a shiny or waxy waterproof material, with white writing on one shoulder and he was wearing baggy denim jeans.

The victim bit the offender on the hand when he attacked her but it is not known how serious the injury is.

Flying the flag for the forces

MILTON Keynes Council has raised the flag to recognise the armed forces.

The event which took place outside the Civic Offices ties in with the first ever Armed Forces Day this Saturday.

The day is an opportunity for the nation to show its support for the men and women who make up the Armed Forces community.

The council invited veterans of several confilcts to attend Monday's ceremony, which was also attended by Captain Bill Holland, of the Seventhth Rifles, and Lt Col Simon Wilkinson, Deputy Lieutenant for Buckinghamshire.

The 7th Rifles have a battalion currently serving in Afghanistan.

Pictures from the event and a word of thanks from MK Mayor Euan Henderson will be sent to wives and families.

Council names its academy sponsor

Trust favoured to run Radcliffe has college in Kent

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE organisation which will help transform a secondary school into an academy has been proposed.

At last night's council meeting, Cllr Sandra Clark was set to nominate the Leigh Academies Trust to fund and run Radcliffe School, which is in special measures.

The Government will ultimately determine the sponsor, who will put up £2million for closing the Wolverton school and reopening it as an academy.

However, the cabinet member for children is adamant this organisation, which will influence the running of school, is the right one.

"We believe that the ethos of Leigh Academy is very similar to the ethos we would like for the Radcliffe," said Cllr Clark, who proposes the council, MK Dons and MK College as co-sponsors.

If Leigh Academy, which has a college in Kent, is approved, the Government will then decide whether the school will get a refurbishment or rebuild, before ploughing many more millions of pounds into the project.

Cllr Clark added: "We will be urging the lead sponsor to work with the council and ensure we get a new school build. This is the only way of us getting the facilities Radcliffe needs."

The matter was brought as an urgent item to the council because the government has intimated that the sponsor will be declared by July, with or without local input. If the cabinet agrees, the school should become an academy by September 2012.

Initially it was hoped the much-needed new build would be funded by the sale of some school land, however with plummeting land values this is no longer an option.

Headmaster John O'Donnell, who is backing academy status as a last resort, said: "I had the chance to go to Leigh Academy in Dartford and I was impressed with the level of engagement. The standard of the buildings was spectacular. But this is very early days."

Labour leader Cllr Norman Miles said: "A lot of parents won't care who runs the school as long as it's well run.

"For the parents who are interesting in sponsors it's a great shame they won't have a chance to comment. But the one thing we all want to see is the early closure of this long standing saga, in the interests of the young people."

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Useless information from traffic survey

SIR – The traffic survey on the H3 snarled up the whole of Newport Pagnell, the H3, the H4, and the A509 from the motorway back to the Chicheley roundabout.

Thousands of people were late for work with everyone trying to divert from their normal routes to try to get round wherever they thought the holdup was coming from.

I took a different route to normal and passed the traffic survey point. If I'd been stopped they would have got completely useless information from me as I never normally go that way to work.

A 15 minute journey turned into a 45 minute one with many of my colleagues similarly affected. We're all fuming and complaining to the council.

Paul Hollins
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I have complained to the council as Newport Pagnell became completely grid locked on Tuesday morning.

My usual 10-minute drive to work took over half-an-hour and there were several near accidents on the Willen Road/A509/H3 roundabout where people were queueing across it.

I had to pass the checkpoint three further times – back and forth to home during the day – this was a complete joke.

There must be better ways to get the same information out of people without disrupting everyone's day so badly.

Emma.
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – What a waste of time and resources.

The last survey didn't help plan the increased amount of traffic at the pathetic roundabout at Bletchley which, whilst everything has been built around it, is still clogging up and causing problems.

Fran Dare
Sent by e-mail

Use redways more and make them safer

SIR – Re 'Fourth sex attack on redways' MK NEWS website June 18.

I think a copy of this man's e-fit should be sent to every address in Milton Keynes .

He needs to be found before he takes it to another level.

Lee Drinkwater
Sent by e-mail

■ SIR – If more people used the redways they would be safer

We can walk and cycle and leave cars at home when making short journeys around Milton Keynes – that's why we have them.

Claire Armstrong

Casino no – democracy is not a game of chance

SIR – Milton Keynes is a prime location for new landmarks.

But do we really want the ugliest building in Britain on the edge of beautiful Campbell Park?

Yet this is what we are threatened with, in the form of a new high-rise hotel and casino slated for the city centre. For some time, developers have had questionable designs at the rear of the Xscape building, and everyone who cares about our city should understand what they entail.

I am one of a group of Campbell Park residents who attended last week's council meeting to voice our concerns.

We are not only worried about its bruising visual impact on the skyline: we are also concerned about traffic congestion and the impact on families who want to visit the theatre and leisure district in peace.

The police already have enough crime and anti-social behaviour to deal with at night: why add a high-adrenalin gambling centre to the cocktail?

Fortunately, a majority of city councillors shared our concerns, and last week they voted to send the developer's plans back to the drawing board.

This is fantastic news for democracy, and for anyone who cares about the quality of urban life in Milton Keynes.

The developer will now have to provide more detail to justify its plans for the area. And the Development Control Committee will want to scrutinise every issue in great detail.

This is our chance, as local people, to speak up and affect the outcome. Remember: although the council spends many hours reading reports and discussing the issues, we, as local people, will have to live with the results of their decisions for decades to come.

Do you want a landmark we can be proud of? Or another eyesore? Speak up, everyone, and let the planners know!

Linda Inoki
Enterprise Lane, Campbell Park

Flu reassurance

SIR – Re 'Health chiefs ready for swine flu outbreak', (MK NEWS last week).

This article has re-assured me a lot.

When I first heard about this I panicked a lot but I don't think we should any more.

To be fair, swine flu is serious but normal flu can kill you as well right? I mean, come on people, as long as we all follow the instructions 'catch it, bin it , kill it' and also just follow basic hygiene rules... wash your hands... blow your nose with a tissue not your jumper, we should be fine.

Don't go to the doctor if you think you have it, that would be putting others at risk.

Laura Meadows (aged 14)
Sent by e-mail

Neighbourhood con

SIR – Regarding 'Conning couple defrauded householders of thousands' (MK NEWS last week).

Just shows we never know who is living next door!

Clearly this couple preyed on the vunerable.

We can only hope there are not others that have been conned in the same manner and are afraid to come forward.

If this is the case, don't suffer in silence.

Name and address supplied

Every little helps

SIR – It was encouraging to see a pro-Tesco letter in your last edition.

So much negativity has been aired re Tesco's planning application for a store off Tickford Street, Newport Pagnell.

There ARE people wanting the store who have written and e-mailed local newspapers (including MK NEWS), local council and government officials, but have not been published or even acknowledged.

These are residents outside level walking distance of the town including pensioners, disabled and some young families, who have neither the means to advertise or the ability to form groups and attend meetings to back up Tesco's proposals.

No thanks to those who turned up to full council meeting on June 9 to fight the Tesco application.

Maybe those involved should fight for the vulnerable sections of the community. Maybe consideration should be given to the 'thousands' of signatures on the petitions. Are they all genuine residents of Newport Pagnell?

Please, let there be fair recognition of the pro-Tesco potential customers' views, instead of the anti-Tesco hype and dramatics recently spattering our local press.

J and D Fowler
Rivers Estate, Newport Pagnell

Change for the better

SIR – The residents of Wolverton should support the idea of changing Radcliffe comprehensive school into a new academy.

Radcliffe school is listed along with Leon and Sir Frank Markham as failing schools.

The school owes the council £2.8million and the council does not have money to provide '21st century facilities'.

The only way that is left to the council is to allow private sponsors take over the school and convert it into academy.

The sponsors will have only some degree of control over the governance of the school, since the school has to follow the national curriculum.

The residents of Woughton area welcomed the idea of having a brand new academy replacing the old Sir Frank Markham comprehensive school with all modern facilities fit for the 21st century and I gather there is a demand for places already in the new school.

There is no truth in the teachers' union NUT's claim that the academies have to change the selection criteria. It is true to say that in faith schools selection criteria are dictated by the management.

It is wrong to classify all academies as failing in their educational standards – it depends upon the area where they are located.

In spite of criticisms about academies, they are far better than bog standard comprehensives and it is government policy to turn failing comprehensives into academies.

You can do it

SIR – Once again busy DIY enthusiasts in Milton Keynes proved that they're not in too much of a hurry to dip into their pockets for small change.

Dedicated volunteers from Age Concern Milton Keynes, part of the Age Concern Federation which has merged nationally with Help the Aged, were delighted to collect £487.85 outside the two B&Q stores in Rooksley and Bletchley during the first weekend in June.

Collectors were thrilled to discover that one shopper had put a 20-pound note into the collecting tin. These donations help Age Concern MK support local older people by providing activities from home visiting and befriending to lunch clubs and advice and information.

Coroner calls for junction closure

Motorist died trying to cross H8 at Coffee Hall

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A JUNCTION allowing motorists to cross a dual carriageway may be closed after a man was killed in a car crash.

Buckinghamshire's deputy coroner, Tom Osborne, has called for Milton Keynes Council (MKC) to take action to prevent further deaths after motorist Karunakaran Kanthasamy, 26, was killed on Friday, October 24, 2008 crossing a grid road near Coffee Hall.

An inquest, held on Friday, heard Mr Kanthasamy, from Jonathans, Coffee Hall, pulled out of the junction from Chapter to turn right onto the H8 Standing Way at around 8pm when his blue Honda Civic collided with a Vauxhall Astra travelling at around 63mph eastbound on Standing Way.

Mr Kanthasamy, who worked at Fedex, was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital where he died of multiple injuries at 9.15pm.

PC Andrew Evans, collision investigator for Thames Valley Police (TVP), told the inquest: "The driver of the Honda [Mr Kanthasamy] seems to have suffered a lack of attention or distraction prior to the collision and failed to see the vehicle in his field of vision."

Dead: Karunkaran Kanthasamy

PC Evans said he would support the coroner's call for the gap in the central reservation to be closed. "On a personal level I would certainly not have any such cross over points," he said.

Recording a verdict of accidental death, Mr Osborne said: "It seems to me that there is a potential hazard here that could be so easily resolved and it would not be a huge inconvenience to people that use Chapter to simply go 300 metres to the top of the road and use the roundabout."

A spokesman for the council told MK NEWS the site was inspected after the incident and no highway issues were identified that were attributable to the collision, but the issue will be reconsidered following the deputy coroner's request.

He said: "In the past three years there have been five collisions, this is below our threshold of seven for consideration and of those only two possibly involved turning traffic.

"But we will investigate again the casualty history at this junction to see if there is any action that can be taken as part of the current or next year's collision remedial programme."

Cllr Chris Williams, member of Milton Keynes Council who has campaigned for such junctions to be closed in Furzton, Downs Barn and Conniburrow said: "It is my view that we should where possible close right hand turns on grid roads, particularly onto dual carriageways. It is very expensive to do but how much is it worth at the cost of human life?"

Cllr Alan Mallyon, cabinet member for transport, said: "It's my personal belief that one of the most effective pieces of road safety we could undertake in MK would be to prevent right turns onto dual carriageways."

Mr Kanthasamy's room mate, Krishnakumar Saravanamyth, said: "He was an easy going, nice guy. It is a terrible thing that has happened."

Mum speaks after her ex is cleared of killing baby

A GRIEVING mother has spoken of her pain for the first time after her ex-partner was cleared of killing her baby son.

Since 2006, 35-year-old Kath Johnson has lost her parents, both grandmothers, and tragically her baby son, Cameron.

Hours after Cameron's death, his father, John O'Toole, was arrested and accused by police of shaking the child so violently that blood vessels in his brain burst.

But on June 9, three years after the ordeal began, the case against him was dropped because the Crown believed that a successful prosecution was unrealistic.

The 29-year-old from Shenley Church End said his son fell from a sofa onto the living room carpet. The defence hired an expert who said the fatal injury could have resulted from a fall.

An inquest can now be scheduled and Kath will have the chance to question the expert witnesses herself.

Shortly after Cameron's death, Kath learned she was pregnant with John O'Toole's second son, who is now three.

Together with her 15-year-old daughter and new partner, her son has brought much-needed joy into Kath's life today.

Speaking to MK NEWS on Friday she said: "My son has helped heal me a lot. He's never replaced Cameron but he helped with the healing process.

"No parent should have to watch their son on life support. It's difficult to carry on but I've got a job, a great family and friends who are all very supportive."

Targets to be set for city's kids' services

THERE are still inadequacies in Milton Keynes Council's children's services, but the department will not be run by the Government.

That is according to a letter from the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF) minister, who met with councillors on Thursday.

They were discussing the fact that MK Council's children's services were rated among the worst in the country.

It was Ofsted's Annual Performance Assessment (APA) which gave them a one star grade in December.

Leader Cllr Sam Crooks was worried that the Government would decide to run the council's children's services, but it has decided to set up an improvement board instead.

However, the Government may require council officers to work with officials from the department. This is for Ed Balls, the secretary of state, to decide.

He is also due to recommend a series of performance targets for Milton Keynes.

The improvement board will have a Government-appointed chairman who will report to the department quarterly.

Cabinet member for children, Sandra Clark, said she was pleased at the positive reponse about the council's progress.

She said: "We were afraid that the minister might say that the DCSF would intervene and run children's services for us. But they were impressed by the action we've taken."

Making gardeners happy as pigs in ?

A THEME park has come up with a novel way to help local gardeners – give them free manure.

The Gullivers Farm Park in Newlands, creates a lot of manure from its horses, cows, sheep, goats and pigs, so they have decided to bag it and donate it to gardeners.

Gulliver's hopes that the free manure will encourage local people to become more interested in gardening. In these difficult financial times the trend of 'growing your own' fruit and vegetables has become increasingly popular.

Julie Dalton, managing director of Gulliver's, said: "Our Farm Park animals generate a large amount of manure, so giving it away to local gardening enthusiasts is our way of helping out. Even if you don't have a garden, it's easy to get involved with allotments and window boxes, and it's a really enjoyable and satisfying hobby. Our horse manure is particularly good for growing roses and rhubarb."

Mural goes back to nature

STAFF and children are enjoying a new twist to their play at a Milton Keynes pre school.

The Wendy House, in Emerson Valley unveiled a new nature-inspired mural for children to work and interact with.

The mural was designed and produced by local artist and parent Carol Lawson.

The school already has a large outside space for children, some of which is given over to a 'digging space' where the children are encouraged to plant seeds and grow vegetables. Wendy Cross, manager for the past 23 years ,said: "I cannot thank Carol enough for all the effort and time she has put into producing this piece of art for us. It takes pride of place in the garden and is a perfect backdrop to the digging area and reinforces the theme of the Wendy House, which is 'learning through play'."

Cops' dispersal order to tackle estate gang

POLICE are clamping down on a gang causing problems on the Lakes Estate.

Thames Valley Police working with Milton Keynes Council has obtained a dispersal order for the Lakes Estate in Bletchley.

The order will go live on Thursday and run for two months.

It is being introduced to help police deal with a small group whose anti-social behaviour is having a negative impact on the local community.

This group has been causing problems for local shopkeepers and residents for some time and the order is being put in place as a direct response to a growing number of complaints.

The dispersal order covers the estate between Stoke Road, Drayton Road and Lomond Drive. Posters have been placed in the areas affected, advising people of the order and what it means.

Groups of two or more people who are causing a nuisance can be moved away from and prevent them returning within a 24-hour period.

Anyone under the age of 16 in the area between 9pm and 6am, unsupervised by an appropriate adult, can be removed and taken back home or to a suitable place of safety by an officer or PCSO.

PC Dave Goodwin, from the anti-social behaviour team, said: "This is an extra power which will help us deal with anti-social behaviour.

"However, we still need the help of the community. If you know those committing crime and disorder in the neighbourhood, please contact us."

Tired of the fat mummy pictures?

I couldn't blame the pregnancy (I would love to!) but due to my diet of quick sugar fixes, and comfort eating my weight had crept up. At this happy time, I felt depressed; I was the biggest I had ever been. I tried dieting for a few months and thought about going back to diet clubs that I had tried in the past. They hadn't worked then, why would they work now? I was still in my maternity clothes, and couldn't face buying the correct size for my shape I hated the sight of myself.

My husband found the advertisement for SureSlim and convinced me to give them a call. At my first consultation, I weighed 12.5 stone and was Size 16, but after chatting with the SureSlim consultant, I felt motivated and raring to go. An eating plan was put together, personalised just for me. With the support from my family, friends and SureSlim consultant, the weight just kept falling off, I have never felt so good - I felt alive!

Heart palpitations that I'd suffered from regularly over the past 18 years were now history; it just proved to me that they had been a result of my high sugar diet over the years. I haven't even had a flutter since I started SureSlim 6 months ago!

I am a happier person to live with, my family love the new me. Having reached my goal, losing a total of 39.5lbs and 23 inches, I am now on the Lifestyle plan. It's not a diet, but a lifestyle change; giving me the figure I have dreamed of for years!

To the beat of a drum: Competitors in last year's festival race for the line at Willen Lake

Enter the Dragon Boats – at Willen this weekend

THE dragons are coming – the city's spectacular Dragon Boat Festival takes place at Willen Lake on Sunday.

Up to 60 crews are expected to battle it out over the 200m race course, watched by several thousand spectators.

Participating crews will be seeking to knock 2008 champions Lifestyle Express, representing Landmark Wholesale, off their pedestal.

Sponsor Easycopiers has chosen World Vision, the relief and development organisation, as its festival charity.

Managing director of Easycopiers, Adam Macintyre, said: "We are always keen to support local and national charities when possible and after participating in this year's Dragon Boat Festival we felt that we would like to be more involved, hence we have taken on the commitment to sponsor the festival for the next three years".

Pub fined for licence breach

A PUB has been fined for not having CCTV cameras.

City magistrates heard on Friday how licensing officers and police found there had actually been no CCTV for three years, when they visited The Maltsters' Arms, Fenny Stratford in September 2008.

The swoop was part of a joint operation dubbed 'Operation Hangover'.

Magistrates fined the pub's owners, Punch Taverns Plc a total of £5,000 with £1,300 costs after they admitted (under the Licensing Act 2003) failing to comply with a condition requiring a CCTV system to be in place.

Council licensing officer James Sloan said: "We are very pleased with the result as it hammers home the message that all licensed premises in Milton Keynes must comply with conditions to ensure their customers and local residents are able to enjoy a night in safety."

Woodhill boss leaves to take up regional job

Promotion: Luke Serjeant

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

THE boss at the city's high security jail is to leave his role.

Governor Luke Serjeant arrived at Woodhill, on Tattenhoe Street, in January 2006 a week before the Chief Inspector of Prisons published a damning a report on the jail's 'depressing' performance.

The report, based on an inspection in August 2005, concluded that Woodhill was 'not providing a sufficiently safe and positive environment for its prisoners'.

Two years later, in 2007, the Chief Inspector returned and found 'a very different prison'.

Mr Serjeant has now been promoted to regional manager for custodial services for the West Midlands and will be leaving Woodhill on June 27.

He said his first priority was to create a positive and safe environment for the prisoners and staff and he is proud of the progress made at the jail over the past three years.

He said: "I am particularly proud of the First Night Centre and of the improvements to the prison grounds and gardens, but there has been work across every area of the prison and many positive improvements over that time."

In September 2008 the jail's facilities for disabled prisoners, treatment of some mental health patients and radicalisation of prisoners were criticised by the Independent Monitoring Board (IMB) in its annual review.

Mr Serjeant said the prison has since made progress on all of the areas identified, including providing new health facilities and a forum for disabled inmates and introducing systems to free up nurses to work with prisoners suffering from mental health issues.

He added: "Overcrowding remains an issue across the prison service, but the numbers we currently hold in Woodhill (up to 819) are manageable and the staff here do an outstanding job in ensuring that all of the prisoners here are held safely, securely and in decent conditions."

The recruitment process to appoint a successor is currently under way.

From September A-level courses will be taught at Lord Grey while Level 1, Level 2 and some Level 3 vocational courses and diplomas will be taught at Leon.

This means some students will study on a different site, but pupils will remain on their current school's roll.

Dr Jo Trevenna, head of sixth form at Lord Grey, said: "By entering into partnership with Leon we will increase the choices available to all students. Working together, both sixth forms will be truly inclusive."

Vicky Keogh, Leon's key stage five academic manager, added: "This is a best fit model for both schools and student needs are at the

Two arrested after Scout hut fire

TWO teenagers have been arrested on suspicion of arson after fire damaged a Newport Pagnell Scout hut.

A 14 and a 15-year-old boy have been released on police bail after a the blaze on Tickford Street at around 7pm on Sunday.

Police who were investigating say a fence appears to have been set alight, spreading to the hut which is used by the 50-member 3rd Scout Group.

Peter Harrison, Scouts' district commissioner, said he was disappointed about the damage.

"It will cause disruption because they can't use the building. We are fortunate with it happening at this time of year. A lot of activities will be outdoor ones. But they are going to join with the 5th Newport for things that have to be done indoors."

He said a scoutmaster from Great Linford has sheeted the roof until repairs can be carried out.

Make mine a Merc

MORE than 400 customers and guests attended the launch of the new Mercedes-Benz E-Class.

The launch at Mercedes-Benz of Milton Keynes on June 11 was attended by the Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Euan Henderson and a fund-raising event for MK Snap was launched during the evening

Managing director Warren Brearley said "This is the ninth generation of the E-Class and it marks a very special time in the history of the marque."

Polish mayor chuffed with train shed development

A NEW city development has had a special visit from Poland.

Milton Keynes mayor Cllr Euan Henderson, hosted a visit of the Lord Mayor of Wroctaw in Poland to Wolverton Park, the new development incorporating the historic Grade II listed Royal Train Shed buildings.

The visitors, who were shown Wolverton Park by Places for People project director Ian Troughton, were keen to see Milton Keynes as they believe there is a great deal in common with their own city which was virtually destroyed in the Second World War and has had to be rebuilt.

Dr Rafal Dutkiewicz who is leading the redevelopment in Wroctaw, said: "Milton Keynes is a new city but a similar age to the 'new' Wroctaw and we are keen to see how it has been developed and how it will grow.

"I am very impressed with what has been done at Wolverton Park.

"The town houses inside the Royal Train Shed are incredible and a fine example of development whilst keeping the history of your city alive."

Bus service under fire from parents

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

PARENTS have signed a petition against a 'dangerous' new bus service that runs outside their children's school.

Around 140 signatures have been collected by Nick Lewis, who says his and other residents' children are being put at risk by buses travelling down the narrow road outside Oxley Park Primary School.

Mr Lewis, from Cranbourne Avenue, Westcroft said: "We want the service to at least be stopped during the school run. We are concerned that a child is going to get injured or killed.

"It is a u-shaped road outside the school with lots of parked cars and buses struggle to get through. They drive far too fast, it is an accident waiting to happen."

The new service between Central Milton Keynes and Westcroft, which passes through Oxley Park every 20 minutes, was introduced in April.

As reported in MK NEWS previously, some residents claim the buses are noisy, unsafe and cause traffic congestion.

Paul Balladon, from Harlow Crescent, has collected another petition with 150 signatures calling for the service to be re-routed so that it does not pass through the residential areas.

The council has said the service is tied in to funding agreements made with the housing developers before the estate was built.

A spokesman added: "We are aware of these complaints and we are working closely with the local Neighbourhood Action Group, using their local knowledge to help us assess the situation and gather further information."

Price correct as at 17 June 2009. Book and travel from 3 July to 10 August 2009. Variable charges for hold baggage apply and some payment methods attract a handling fee. See website for details.

A one-two for Milton Keynes College

The recent LSC South East Learning and Skills Awards saw two local companies, both of which use Milton Keynes College as their training partner, contesting the title of Small Employer of the Year –and a young e2e learner from Coffee Hall, Roxanne Clarke, winning a special commendation.

The award ceremony, which was held at the Copthorne Hotel, near Gatwick and hosted by Strictly Come Dancing It Takes Two presenter, Claudia Winkleman, celebrated the role learning and skills play in the lives and careers of individuals, the success of businesses and the well being of communities.

Accountancy firm numbers among the winners

Michael Anthistle and Shaun Craven receiving the award for Small of Employer of the Year from Claudia Winkleman and (far right) LSC Chair, Norman Boyland

Anthistle Craven is a small chartered accountancy firm based in the town of Buckingham. Since 2000 a third of the firm's workforce has been developed through the Apprenticeship programme, taking a route that sees them move from Apprenticeship to Advanced Apprenticeship and then onto NVQ4 and ACCA study. The firm believes in growing its own workforce and promoting from within and has seen its commitment to investing in staff training and development resulting in year on year growth since 2000.

But Anthistle Craven has more to celebrate than a growing client base – this year the firm fought off competition from another local company, SJD Associates of Bletchley, to win the title of Small Employer of the Year at the LSC South East Learning and Skills Awards.

Having won its category in the South East region, Anthistle Craven will go on to the final of the National Apprenticeship Awards later this year, where they will be hoping to emulate another local business, the Milton Keynes hair salon Arcana. The region's Small Employer of the Year in 2008, Arcana went on to win the National title.

Debbie Elderton, owner-manger of Arcana, where all the team benefits from what Debbie describes a 'training pyramid' – a system that allows staff not only to become specialists in their chosen field but also to build up their skills with qualifications in areas such as customer relations or business administration.

Why do an apprenticeship?

How long have you got? There is a growing list of very good reasons why anyone with the ambition to build a successful career should find out more about Apprenticeships.

For one, not only won't you start your working life with a loan to pay off, you'll also be earning a salary from day one of your Apprenticeship. And one day, if you decide you would like to go to university, like our Advanced Apprentice of the Year, Richard Bland, you may well find your employer will pick up the bill.

Start with an Apprenticeship and there's no limit to where you could end up – at the very least you'll have skills and qualifications and a CV that makes you stand out from the crowd. Something that is increasingly important in difficult days like these when competition for jobs is hot.

Is there an Apprenticeship in the field I want to work in? We can't guarantee it, but there are hundreds of Apprenticeships to choose from covering every sector of business and industry, so we are pretty confident that a little bit of research on your part will turn up good news.

To find out everything you want to know about Apprenticeships, and try using the new online vacancy matching service, go to apprenticeships.org.uk. Or you can pay a visit to some of the training providers with stands at the Big Skill Event on 30th June at Middleton Hall in the thecentre:mk.

Richard Bland - Advanced Apprentice of the Year

Nineteen-year-old Richard Bland is an MoD apprentice working for the Defence Storage & Distribution Agency (DSDA). A talented engineer and a committed team player, Richard has chosen to take the vocational route to academic and career success.

Richard embarked on his Apprenticeship in July 2006, after leaving school with good GCSE results. Over the last three years he has added numerous qualifications to his portfolio, including BTEC National Award, NVQ2 in Performing Engineering Operations and NVQ3 in Mechanical Manufacturing Engineering.

After completing his Advanced Apprenticeship in two years, Richard moved onto an HNC in Mechanical Engineering, which he plans to follow with a degree course.

Richard said, "The whole Apprenticeship programme has given me the life skills and experience needed to excel in my chosen area of engineering. I've put 100% into everything I've done and got more than I can say out of it."

Has Milton Keynes got Talent?

Forget the X-Factor. You stand more chance of winning the lottery. But that doesn't mean you haven't got talent. If you think you've got what it takes to make it in the entertainment industry, take a leaf out of Nadine Samuel's book and do a course that will help you develop your talents and negotiate the industry.

A student of performing arts at Amersham & Wycombe College, Nadine will soon be moving on to the Urdang Academy in London's West End where she's won a place on the National Diploma in Professional Musical Theatre.

She turned in a fantastic performance at the LSC South East Learning and Skills Awards and will be on stage singing for you at the Big Skill. Don't miss her. And if you think performing arts might be for you, try having a word with some of the education providers exhibiting at the event.

POT OF GOLD FOUND!

P&H JEWELLERS ANTIQUES ROADSHOW

Couple receive cash award for unwanted items

A LOCAL couple this week had a very lucky day when visiting a Jewellery & Gem Stone AntiqueRoadshow. Like most households they had a drawer full of bits and bobs including an old gents watch approximately 1930. The watch was working but had been left to them. A selection of old, broken and incomplete rings and a few odd items of unusual jewellery were also included.

"The young couple were delighted with the good news, "said Mr Paul Franks, a professional jeweller. He went on to say, "The couple asked me not to reveal the exact amount they received but I can confirm we were talking thousands of pounds.

HIDDEN TREASURE

Like most readers you probably have dreamt about winning the pools or finding a pot of gold.

Many households have hidden treasure sitting with the owners not knowing the true value.

Well, this week is your chance to visit Holiday Inn, 500 Saxon Gate West, Milton Keynes, MK9 2QH.

Mr Franks added, "with many years of experience in valuing and purchasng watches, jewellery and gems, I could tell you many stories when people have visited a Roadshow with items that were seemingly of little value to them."

Whilst reading this article, many readers will be thinking of an old item or a piece of unused jewellery.

VALUATION

Mr Franks added, "The reasons behind choosing Holiday Inn, 500 Saxon Gate West, Milton Keynes, MK9 2QH. is because it's well situated and well known to local people.

The Roadshow will be the last of its kind to visit the hotels. Many items are hoped to be found."

Your help is needed to make this unusual event a success - with a free valuation service and no obligation to sell, what is there to lose?

Things you should look for and take next week include broken rings, old chains, pocket watches, old silver, diamond and gem set jewellery (even with stones missing), old pictures, objects d'art, coins, medals and virtually anything old or interesting.

Their buyers urgently require stock for collectors and overseas customers, and are offering an instant cash settlement on any items they buy.

Dons chief opens village sports club

IT was smiles all round on Friday as a village unveiled its newly-renovated sports club.

Pete Winkelman, chairman of MK Dons, was on hand to cut the ribbon at Wicken's club house after a long-awaited refurbishment. During an evening of cricket, football, archery and tennis, Mr Winkelman presented trophies to the Wicken and New City under-12 football teams who played an exhibition game.

After 10 years' work, the club, which started in 1849, was restored with £95,000.

The club will be open for bookings for events, although its main focus will continue to be sport, with an emphasis on youth cricket and football.

Counselling crisis

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A COUNSELLING service has been inundated with people needing its support during the recession.

The City Counselling Centre (CCC), a charity based in the Church of Christ the Cornerstone, has reported a 'significant increase' in GP referrals during the past year.

The centre won a contract in May 2007 to work in partnership with NHS Milton Keynes on a pilot project to provide counselling services to local people with mild to moderate mental health issues.

It has received over 3,000 GP referrals since the start of the pilot, with 1,751 referrals between April 2008 and March 2009. This compares with a total of 689 referrals in the previous 10 months.

Diana Savage, chief executive of CCC said: "I think the increase is due to the recession as the economic situation exacerbates people's problems so they could have anxiety over their home, their job, their family, and relationships.

"I also think that news of the service has spread through word of mouth and GPs appear to be pleased with it."

A spokesman for NHS Milton Keynes said: "People may sometimes feel unhappy and unable to cope with the pressures and challenges of life. Unofficial feedback from GPs has been positive, as counselling services can be very constructive in helping people think about the problems they are experiencing in their life and helping them find new ways of dealing with them."

The pilot has recently been extended and is due to end in March 2010, but Mrs Savage said the huge demand means the resources for the scheme may run out at the end of this year.

The centre also runs other services run by volunteers including drop-in crisis counselling, drug and alcohol counselling; rape and sexual assault support, counselling for carers; and H4 HIV counselling.

MK BUSINESS

Company's staff tracking working days on Twitter

One Milton Keynes-based businessman is utilising the explosion of publicity surrounding online social networking site, Twitter, to improve the efficiency and productivity of his own company.

Adam Naisbitt from Immediate Return Marketing, based at CBXII, has adopted Twitter for himself and staff to openly post their everyday work-related movements, which he believes will keep clients informed of their daily whereabouts.

Whether spending the next two hours in a meeting, on the train to London or taking a 15 minute break, Adam believes Twitter offers a relatively untapped, but growing service for businesses.

"If our clients had an 'in-house' marketing department, they'd know where they were, when they were available and when they were leaving the office. Twitter is a great way for us to offer that same familiarity as a bolt-on marketing department, even though we're based across the city." said Adam.

Immediate Return Marketing's clients can also view other clients' profiles; introducing a completely unique perspective in client-to-client communication.

Additionally, companies curious about Immediate Return Marketing' services can simply 'follow' their Twitter profile and make a more informed judgement based on published activity produced by IRM AND current clients.

Adam adds: "Giving clients a clear path to interact with each other could be seen as a risky strategy but it is our company policy to be completely open about the work we do and achieve for our clients. It's the value behind our Guaranteed Profit Guarantee", the Case Studies on our website, and it's the same with Twitter"

Each updated message, or Tweet, can be posted in seconds, either via an office-based computer or by mobile phone, which allows on-the-move updates and 'breaking' developments. Adam adds: "Twitter is a great business tool that helps people working within a fast-paced environment. Its simplicity is key but its uses have not fully been explored yet."

Adam is also using Twitter as an extension of his website 'blog' on marketing, which offers free advice, updates, new trends and general company information.

To view this, visit www.guaranteedprofit.co.uk/blog or to find Adam Naisbitt from Immediate Return Marketing on Twitter visit www.twitter.com/adamnaisbitt.

GARDENLIFE

It's not too late to plant containers

FOR those late gardeners who have not planted their summer flowering containers or those who wish to create a new one, here are a few simple steps to create the perfect container

Whatever container you choose, line the inside with polythene. Leave the base of the container free for drainage.

Lining the container will help prolong its life and also help retain moisture.

Whenever possible site your container in its chosen position before planting.

Place the container on 'pot feet' or small blocks to raise it off the ground, this will aid drainage, prevent green algae and moss from growing and prevent slugs from crawling up the side and destroying all your plants

Before planting make sure that the drainage holes in the base are clear. Place some broken crocks or gravel in the base.

Fill the container with compost with added water-retaining gel or multi-purpose potting compost until almost full. Press the compost down gently allowing enough space at the top in which to place your plants.

POSITION OF YOUR CONTAINER
IF standing by a wall or fence the tallest plants will need to be at the back, if the container is to be viewed from all sides the tallest will need to be in the middle.

Place low growing or trailing plants around the edge.

After placing the plants in the container add more potting soil between the plants, firming the i to remove any air pockets between the roots of the plants

TYPE OF PLANTS
THERE are many plants that can be grown in containers, at this time of year. Almost all the plants available will be in pots. Nurseries and garden centres will have finished selling 'pack' bedding plants by early June.

Tall growing plants for the centre of containers
Argyranthemums (Margarites): White daisy flowers with a yellow centre. Pink or red flower varieties are also available.

Canna lily: Leaves either green, red or red and green striped, lily-like flowers with striking colours-either bright red, orange or yellow.

Cordyline Australis: With green sword like leaves, other varieties such as Torbay Sunrise have green and white striped leaves and Red Star have purple sword-like leaves.

Ornamental Millet Purple Baron: Fantastic green-purple foliage and almost black plumes, growing almost 90 cm high. Purple Majesty, has striking black architectural foliage.

Musa Cavendish Red Banana: Can grow to one metre high with large, richly coloured red and purple leaves.

Standard fuchsia – many varieties, flower size and colours.

Maurice Rust

Lower growing plants
THERE are many available.

Begonia: Non-stop, free flowering with big, bold and blousy blooms, many shades of red, yellow, orange and white colours.

Begonia Illumination: Prolific semi-double and double coloured flower with a true cascading habit.

Coleus Kong: Large leaves in awesome colour patterns. One plant will almost fill a container.

Geraniums: Traditional summer flowering bedding plant, also ivy-leaved geraniums to trail over the side of containers

Impatiens: Both double and single flower varieties with varying shades of red, pink, purple and white flowers are available.

Marigolds: Brightly-coloured flowers varying from yellow, orange, red and bi-colours.

Petunia: A superb free-flowering plant, available in many colours and shades. Double flowering varieties are also available.

Verbena: Early to flower, small individual 'heads' make up the cluster of flowers to form the head, red, purple, blue or white.

Trailing plants
Bacopa, convolvulus, diascia, helichrysum and lobelia may still be available.

Herbs
GOLD and silver leaved Thymus make an alternative and attractive plant to trail over the edge of a container.

WATERING AND FEEDING
AFTER planting, water your container immediately, do not allow your container to dry out. On hot sunny days your container may have to be watered twice a day, morning and evening.

After four to five weeks feed a liquid fertilizer once a week throughout the summer.

From mid July feed with a small amount of Osmacote' slow release fertilizer granules.

Throughout the life of the container, remove faded flower heads as soon as they appear.

The Empire strikes back with new name

CLUBBERS can bag themselves a piece of nightclub history.

The city's most celebrated 90s nightspot Empire, formerly Golden Flamingo, is retaining its legendary name to become Empire Red when the venue re-launches this summer.

MK NEWS asked readers for suggestions on the new name and club owners agreed 24-year-old Jamie Turner from Stony Stratford's submission was best suited to the club.

A spokesman said: "We had already decided on very lavish and almost oriental decor, and Empire Red fits in perfectly with this theme. Retaining 'Empire' in the name is a great way of remembering what a fantastic place the venue used to be and it certainly sums up the stunning grandeur inside the club."

Before building work begins though, everyone is invited to relive the good old Empire days by visiting the club for a final goodbye on Saturday, June 27. The venue fwill be open for an afternoon of reminiscence, offering a tour of the club, the chance to snap up memorabilia from the decor and take photos.

To book your place search for 'Empire Red' on Facebook.

Don't miss the big bikes and bits show, this weekend at motorbike, Motor Serve.

Motor Serv on the Old Wolverton road have been serving Milton Keynes and surrounding areas for 20 years now. supplying the retail and trade with a massive range of car parts and accessories, great service and huge stocks have always been at the forefront of their success. At the beginning of 2008, after a couple of years of deliberating, they decided to take the plunge with a whole new range, one which is becoming more and more popular with every passing day. That is, introducing motor bike parts and accessories, clothing and helmets.

With stocks in place and some staff training under our belt we launched ourselves with our first "Big Bikes and Bits Show" in June 2008.

The marquee was up, the Oxford display truck parked, Motrax rep's waiting with a mountain of offers, Pure Triumph showed of their latest models alongside Grafton Honda with the new Fire blade.

Burgers were frying, local radio were at the ready and the sun was beaming down, and then….in the distance was heard the first rumble of a bike, and then another, and some more..and on it went.

Throughout the day we saw over 250 bikes of all shapes and sizes, riders of all abilities and ages. Some came to be nosey, some to make the most of the offers, a lot just to meet with other bikers and have a chat, a cuppa and a burger.

Over all, we had a great day with some fantastic feedback and great ideas about how we could help the Bucks/Northants bikers with somewhere else for them to get all they need to keep them biking.

As the year has moved on, what started in one small corner of the store has now become one complete end of the shop with more stock, more choices and bigger ranges. Helmets from HJC, Box, Arashi and Caberg, clothing from Bone Dry and Tuzo, boots, paddock stands, tools, cleaning products and lubricants….the list would go on.

So with it going so well, how could we not hold another "Big Bikes and Bits Show". Bigger and better this year, Oxford and Motrax are back, NGK plugs, Pure Triumph, Paul Walters a local air brush artist, Autoglym who will be showing off their wares Beta tools and of course ourselves.

Heart FM 103.3 will be there to see things along and as a special treat, we will be having a pair of motor bike stunt riders who will be riding around most of the day and putting on three special shows at 11.30, 12.30 and 1.30pm. Friendly burger man will also be on site to make sure no one goes hungry or thirsty and of course there will be loads of offers on the day including the chance to win one of many great prizes including a HJC helmet and a TomTom rider sat-nav.

So if you want to help celebrate every thing motor bike, and have a great day out too, come to Motor Serv between 9.00am and 3.00pm Saturday 27th June.

How far would you go for a great deal on your next car?

How about just down the road!

The easiest way to find your next car from the local dealership with the biggest choice and best prices...
AND WITH ALL THE ADVANTAGES OF BUYING LOCALLY INSTEAD OF FROM FAR AWAY!

Club hails first county champ

GOLF

ASPLEY Guise and Woburn Sands Golf Club were celebrating as Niall Johnston won the Bedfordshire County Championship.

It is the first time in the club's history that they have produce a county champion.

Niall won by 10 shots on his home course in a rain reduced 54 holes Championship.

He won both the County and Colts Championships from Robert Sutton (Dunstable Downs).

Niall led by three shots after splendid round 68 first round and increased his lead to six shots (141) at the end of the first day.

With 31 players qualifyng for the second day and the third round cancelled because on rain the final round was able to be completed with the course in tremendous condition, thanks to the hard work of the ground staff and provided a stern test for all the competitors.

Another great round meant Niall went on to extend his lead by a further four shots.

Niall also led the Aspley Guise and Woburn Sands ''A'' Team, which included Tom Munkley and Tom Snelling to victory on the Saturday with a total score of 452, just edging out Dunstable Downs 'A' on 455.

They're changing guard at MK Lions

BASKETBALL

E J HARRISON has become Vince Macaulay's first addition to his Milton Keynes Lions roster ahead of the 2009/10 season.

The 6ft 2ins American point guard joins from the Guildford Heat where he won the BBL Trophy and BBL Playoff Championship as the team's leader in 2008. This past season he averaged 16 points four assists and four rebounds whilst shooting 42 per cent from the three point line.

Harrison was voted MVP of the Heat's BBL Trophy win and brings a veteran leadership to the Lions. A graduate of Connecticut University the affable guard also played for the Teeside Mohawks and Reading Rockets before breaking into the BBL.

Lions' Head Coach Vince Macaulay commented, "I am delighted to be able to acquire EJ, he brings a bit of size to the point guard position but can also play the two spot which will allow us to find more playing time for Eddie Morrison who is a real prospect at guard for the long term future."

Harrison led the Heat in steals as well as assists last season and looks a good fit for the Lions system. He also played for the Heat in their European campaign in the ULEB cup in 2008 against some of the top teams in Europe; at this level of competition he averaged 15 points per outing and four assists. Macaulay continued, "EJ is a great closer, in all the battles we have had with the Heat in the past two season he has been instrumental in closing the games out for his side, I look forward to seeing him do that in a Lions vest.

The Lions look to announce more signings shortly as negotiations continue with Mike New, Yorick Williams Dru Spinks and Robert Youngblood.

The Lions open the 2009/10 season at the Bletchley Leisure Centre before moving to their new home around Christmas time. Fixtures are due out towards the end of June.

Agony and ecstasy in Portugal

ATHLETICS

MILTON Keynes Athletic Club competitors for the Great Britain team at the inaugural European Cup have left Portugal with mixed feelings.

The happiest will no doubt be Kadi-Ann Thomas who finished sixth in the Women's 100m (extra heat A) in a time of 11.56 in the calm but hot conditions in the stadium.

It was even better in the afternoon as Kadi-Ann ran the second leg of the 4x100m Relay as the GB team finished an excellent second behind Russia 43.35. In the following event the Men's 4x100m relay Craig Pickering had the agony of watching as the man he should have replaced, Ricky Fifton, pulled up with a recurrence of a hamstring injury.

There was consolation for Craig as he anchored the team of Simeon Williamson, Tyrone Edgar and Harry Aikines-Aryeetey to win the 4x100m 'extra' relay in 39.26s.

On Sunday the ex-British javelin champion, Steve Batley, was not overly impressed with the competition but was complementary about Mervyn Luckwell in his first major competition in a British vest.

Morrant Four Counties Division One

ASPLEY Guise I drew with Milton Keynes City I.

Milton Keynes made 250 all out with David Loveland smashing 89. Aspely's James Gage 4-32 and Adrian Prickett 3-49 were the best of the bowling. Aspley Guise made 163-7.

New Bradwell beat Elstow I by 5 wkts. Elstow put on 188-9 with Paul Jackson hitting 60 not out. But Bradwell have Asim Hussein 59 and Faheem Aftab 57 to thank for making the total. Best bowling figures came from Zaheer Kahn 4-28.

North Crawley I tied with Cublington I. Cublington were 168 all out with Sheary hitting 61 and Bill Burton 33. Richard Braybrook took 4-11 and Roger Sharpe 3-32. Crawley's Robbie Langeveldt hit 35 with Waugh taking 5-27 for Cublington.

Old Bradwell I were 181 all out in their draw with Newport Pagnell I. Manoj Gosai 37 was top scorer though there were good acounts by several Bradwell batters including Radaf, 36, Prassana Wijesinghe, 34, and Ross Poulter 30.

Newport Pagnell made 158-9 with Daniel Broad best scoring on 47. Graham Downare took 5-41 for Bradwell.

Winslow Town I lost to Eaton Bray I by 124 runs

Eaton Bray hit 218-7 with James Flecknell crashing an impressive 81 backed up by a smart half century from Lee Bearton.

Winslow were skittled for 94 all out as Callum Price, 3-33 and Fenton Price 3-35 did the damage.

Cherwell Premier League

BLETCHLEY Town's bad run of form saw them lose their unbeaten home record to Horspath at Manor Fields on Saturday.

The defeat was mainly thanks in the main to a devastating spell of bowling from Horspath seamer Lee Mason. He claimed 7-29 to set up an easy victory for the visitors as Bletchley endured another heavy defeat.

Bletchley lost the toss for the fourth week in succession, and this proved to be crucial as the home side struggled to cope with the bounce of Mason on a more than lively pitch. They did not help themselves as opener James Sprittles failed to respond to Alex Kilbey's call for a single and was run out for 2. Worse was to follow when the score, still on 14, Kenny Hollis was trapped in front for a duck. Kilbey then followed as he fended a shorter ball from Mason to slip for 9, Bletchley 15-3.

Despite losing Ghufran Mohammed to another unpredictable delivery, Ed Packard (23) and Ian Smith (14) set about rebuilding the innings, until Packard went for one shot too many, and perished to a catch in the covers.

When Smith and Mark Grass departed in quick succession, Bletchley were in all sorts of trouble at 54-7. Clark and Ramandanpulle both fell to Mason shortly afterwards, and the home side were 68-9. Fortunately, the highest stand of the innings followed between James Ward (19 not out) and captain Mark Roberts. However, they could only get to 95, when Roberts was harshly adjudged LBW, Bletchley not picking up any batting points, whereas for Horspath, Mason finished with superb figures of 7-29 in 16 overs.

A rain shower in the interval dampened the track down but not Horspath who made the toal easily.

Bletchley take on an improving Banbury next week.

One-two for Bulls

British Grand Prix winner Sebastian Vettel crosses the line cheered by the Red Bull team

IT was a dream double for Red Bull at the British Grand Prix.

Sebastian Vettel's first place and Mark Webber's second made it a weekend to remember for the Milton Keynes based outfit.

Jenson Button's advantage at the top of the World Championships is still more than two clear victories but he will be concerned by the startling pace shown by Red Bull who were in a league of their own throughout the weekend at Silverstone.

Speaking after his victory Vettel said: "It's never easy it's a long race - you have to stay focused and keep your eyes open all the time.

The 21-year-old German added: "The start was very important and in the first stint I tried to push as hard as I could and make a gap.

"That worked perfectly and I had a fantastic car. The tyres were fantastic as well. This was a step in the right direction.

"Everyone in the team has been working so hard, both in the factory and at the track. The way the team has brought the car to where it is now is fantastic – we've proved it's a step in the right direction – I'm very pleased."

Webber, who still awaits his first GP win said: "It's a great day for the team. I'm disappointed not to take the win, but I think I lost my chance for victory yesterday during qualifying.

"The guys have buried themselves recently with night shifts and the attention to detail that they go to is a credit to them. They're being led very well and they're responding to that. Results help and it's an incredible injection for them to get the top result, a one-two on local turf."

The team's boss Christian Horner summed up the mood in the camp, he said:"It was a completely seamless race by both drivers and they completely dominated it.

"We can really mount a championship challenge from here. There were so many members of the team here today and, for them to see what their cars can do, when they have put in so much effort, is just incredible. I'm thrilled for everyone at Red Bull, they've done a brilliant job. We've still got a long way to go to catch Brawn GP, but we're definitely moving in the right direction."

David McCracken: The former Wycombe Wanderers and Dundee United centre-half has signed a two-year deal with the Dons

Dons sign Wycombe defender

MK Dons have snapped up Scottish defender David McCracken from Wycombe Wanderers.

The 27-year-old centre defender will join the Dons on July 1 on a two-year deal, after his contract with the Chairboys expired.

McCracken joined Wanderers in the summer of 2007 and was elected club captain at Adams Park the for last season where he played a pivotal role in guiding Peter Taylor's to prommotion and was subsequently named in the PFA League 2 Team of the Year.

The former Dundee United centre-half becomes Roberto Di Matteo's third new signing this summer, following the arrivals of defender Dan Woodards and striker Jabo Ibehre.

Speaking to MKDons website McCracken said: "I'm delighted to be here; I got the feeling straight away that this was a Club moving in the right direction at speed. It's a great Club to be joining.

"The Club was unlucky not to win promotion last year but I think that will only spur everyone on to go one better this season. The ambition is definitely there and I'm looking forward to being part of it.

"It's great to get everything sorted before pre-season and I can't wait to come in and get started."

■ DONS defender Danny Swailes has agreed a contract extension to keep him at the Club into the 2009/10 season. Danny, whose current deal was set to expire this summer, will sign terms on a six-month contract with a view to remaining at stadiummk until the end of the season.
